General Election – 4th July 2024

Jane Hamlin

The Prime Minister has called a general election for Thursday 4th July. You will probably have already received notice of this and where you need to go to cast your vote. The polling stations will be open from 7am until 10pm on 4th July.

The boundaries of many constituencies have been changed with the aim of making them more equal in size. Curry Rivel is now in the new constituency of Glastonbury and Somerton. There are five candidates hoping for your vote. Their names in alphabetical order are:

- Tom Carter (Reform UK)
- Jon Cousins (Green Party)
- Sarah Dyke (Liberal Democrats)
- Hal Hooberman (Labour Party)
- Faye Purbrick (Conservative Party Candidate)

When you go to vote you do not need to take your polling card, but you MUST take photo ID with you. You will not be issued with a ballot paper unless you can produce one of the following documents:

- A UK or Northern Ireland photocard driving licence (full or provisional)
- A driving licence issued by an EU country, Norway, Iceland, Liechtenstein, the Isle of Man or any of the Channel Islands
- A UK passport

- A passport issued by an EU country, Norway, Iceland, Liechtenstein or a Commonwealth country
- A Blue Badge
- A PASS card (National Proof of Age Standards Scheme)
- A biometric residence permit
- A Defence Identity Card (MOD form 90)
- A National Identity Card issued by the EU, Norway, Iceland or Liechtenstein
- A Northern Ireland Electoral Identity Card
- A Voter Authority Certificate
- An Anonymous Elector's Document

The following travel passes can also be used as photo ID when you vote:

- An older person's bus pass
- A disabled person's bus pass
- An Oyster 60+ card
- A Freedom Pass
- A Scottish Entitlement Card (NEC)
- A 60 and over Welsh Concessionary Travel Card
- A Disabled Person's Welsh Concessionary Travel Card.
- A Northern Ireland Concessionary Travel Pass.

The photo on your ID must look like you. You can still use your ID even if it has expired.

Relaunch of the community network that supports landowners across Somerset to manage their land for nature

Ben Neenan – Somerset Wildlife Trust

The Private & Community Nature Reserves (PCNR) Network is a user-led group hosted by Somerset Wildlife Trust (SWT) which provides peer-to-peer support for people who own or manage land primarily for nature — including landowners, smallholders, and community groups. It will be celebrating an official relaunch on Saturday 6th July, uniting like-minded individuals to help achieve more for nature's recovery in Somerset.

Currently just 10% of Somerset's landscapes can be classified as being in 'good natural or semi-natural condition'. Somerset Wildlife Trust works with communities, landowners, and farmers across the county to make more space for nature by restoring and reconnecting habitats to form part of a national Nature Recovery Network. Through the PCNR Network, landowners and land managers are able to collaborate and share ideas on how their land can act as a vital stepping-stone for wildlife and deliver benefits for nature, people, and climate.

You could join the Somerset Wildlife Trust for the official relaunch of the PCNR Network on Saturday 6th July from 11am until 3pm. The event is open to existing members and those completely new to the group and will include:

- An introduction to how the PCNR Network plays an important role for nature's recovery in Somerset
- An open space session for attendees to network and share ideas around nature-friendly land management
- A guided walk around SWT's Chancellor's Farm on the Mendip Hills, a permit-only nature reserve
- A tour of Easton Wildlife Groups local community projects.

You can find out more about the PCNR Network and book a place for this event by visiting the website:

www.somersetwildlife.org/events/2024-07-06-pcnr-network-re-launch

Wicked Little Letters (15)

19 July 2024

This black-comedy mystery, based on a strange-but-true story, tells of an absurd scandal that took place in the 1920s.

The two main characters are Edith, a single, devout Christian woman and rowdy Irish immigrant Rose.

Edith and some of her friends start to receive wicked letters which contain inadvertent hilarious profanities. Edith’s father Edward seeks the assistance of the local police and Rose is singled out as the sender. But is Rose really the culprit?

Stars: Olivia Colman, Jessie Buckley, Timothy Spall, Anjana Vasani and Gemma Jones.

Warning: This film contains incidences of swearing. Doors open at 6.30pm, show starts at 7.00pm in the Curry Rivel Village Hall.

Please note that from July we reluctantly have to increase our ticket price to £8.

Tickets are available at the door. Refreshments available.

My Costa Rica Adventure

Isabelle Ward

Hi, my name is Isabelle Ward and I love living in our beautiful and friendly village of Curry Rivel with my family. Firstly, I would like to say thank you for even taking the time to read this. Next year, when I will be 15 years old, I have decided to take on my biggest adventure yet. In July 2025 as part of a small group of us from Huish Episcopi Academy I will be travelling 5,500 miles to Costa Rica to take part in a volunteering expedition through Camps International.

The beautiful and biodiverse remote rainforest of Costa Rica will become my new home for 4 weeks, away from all my creature comforts and my family and friends. This expedition is going to push me outside of my comfort zone, staying in an unfamiliar environment, experiencing challenges that will be both very physical and emotionally demanding whilst being incredibly passionate about making a difference! I will make such a positive impact on not only our planet but other people's lives. The long-lasting impact through my efforts during this time will be felt throughout the local communities for years to come.

I will be working alongside conservationists to protect the natural environment. Getting back to nature and experiencing what it is like to live in the wonders of the rainforest, where monkeys and toucans will be my closest neighbours. Working alongside local people in very rural villages and conservation areas where poverty levels are high and where there is virtually no form of income beyond small scale agriculture. I will learn about innovative and sustainable solutions to environmental issues and get involved in the most inspiring projects to support the environment, wildlife and community. I will be involved with the construction of local hospitals, schools, homes and toilets, whilst helping the environment by planting trees, clearing waste from the sea and vaccinating livestock.

To enable me to make this happen. I need to fundraise £5,000 the cost of my expedition over the next 12 months. I am starting to do this by hosting a Quiz and Chilli Night at Curry Rivel Village Hall on the 6th July 2024 at 6pm with the help of my family and friends.

I really do hope that you can join us for this fun filled evening. You can book your tickets for this event by either scanning the QR code or by visiting my website.

www.isobelleward.co.uk

My dad Jon has promised not to embarrass me too much as he is taking on the role of the Quiz master! That in itself is going to be entertaining to see!

The Care Quality Commission

Tell us now about the quality of care you are receiving.

Each year the Care Quality Commission inspects thousands of care providers to make sure they provide safe, effective, compassionate, high-quality care. These include hospitals, care homes, care home agencies, GP and dental practices, mental health services, hospice care and community health services. If a service needs to improve, we will take action to make sure this happens, but we would like to hear about good care as well as poor care.

Your information helps us decide when, where and what to inspect.

Curry Rivel, Drayton and Fivehead Branch

Tommy Mason, RBL Branch Chairman, Curry Rivel, Drayton & Fivehead

The last 12 months have been very successful for our local RBL Branch in raising funds in support of the Dunkirk Memorial Home.

Dunkirk House is a care home exclusively for the Armed Forces Veterans and their dependents and situated near Bishops Lydeard. The residents' shared experiences in the Armed Forces create a truly unique and supportive community, where everyone looks out for one another and for many it is their last home for 'end-of-life' care. Money raised through donations often supports a variety of projects to make improvements to the home, or to provide residents with activities, such as the craft workshop. Funds are also used to provide special treats such as entertainment to ensure their quality of life is the best it can be. We in our RBL Branch are dedicated in supporting this important facility to ensure our veterans are well looked after.

Through a number of fund raising events over the last year, the local community has supported us in order to raise £2000, and a special cheque presentation was made in last month to the Home Manager, Anne Lewin. Several of the Branch Committee were present and were very proud that one of our Vice Chairman Evelyn Leckie, made the presentation. We would like to really thank all those who have contributed to the fund raising events and all those who have made donations.

In June 2023 we held a Branch Spring Luncheon at the Lamb and Lion where we held a raffle organised by our illustrious Committee Members. In October 2023 we held a horse racing evening in the Fivehead Crown pub. This was the brainchild of Jon Ainsworth who guided us to victory with his charm and wit to encourage punters to part with their cash. There were some notable big winners in this traditional Royal Navy horse racing game, with lady-luck definitely on their side. In February we held a Quiz Night in the CR Village Hall with Alan Martin as the Master of Ceremonies. Food was very generously provided and organised by Gina and Tony Beauchamp, and the compliments flowed about great food and a cracking quiz. We earned just short of £1000 from the quiz and from other donations. All of your contributions have gone to the Dunkirk home and we will continue to support them with more activities and your support. Your generosity is really appreciated and as we have recently celebrated the 80th anniversary of the D- Day landings still fresh in our minds, I would ask that you continue to support us so we may ensure the quality of life for those who have served their country in the military, and kept us safe in our free world.

D-Day Stories

Matt Geen

20 years ago, Hugh Mowat and Nisbet Glen from Curry Rivel, who were involved with D-day, together with John Hoover from Swell, who was at Pearl Harbour, told their stories at a village event. It was recorded, and you can listen to them on the Curry Rivel website: www.curryrivel.org.uk

All three are amazing stories, told by wonderful storytellers. This isn't dull history; it's real experience from people that we knew. Hugh Mowat was a conscientious objector in the Royal Army Medical Corps, who parachuted into Normandy the night before D-Day to set up a field hospital. Nisbet Glen surveyed the Normandy beaches under cover of darkness before the day. John Hoover's story brings to life another momentous day in the war.

They are no longer with us, and I am grateful to the family members who gave their permission to share these recordings again.

New Digital Slinky transport service is just a click away

Andrew Doyle

People living in the Somerton and Langport areas can now take advantage of a trial on-demand flexible transport service.

The brand-new Digital Slinky minibuses are funded by the Government's £13 million Bus Service Improvement Grant (BSIP), along with a raft of other BSIP measures in Somerset. It can be booked quickly and easily by anybody living in Somerton and the surrounding villages – all you need to do is register and either book it online or by downloading the app. You can find out more at <https://www.somerset.gov.uk/roads-travel-and-parking/slinky-digital-somerton/>, including other ways to book.

The service was introduced on Tuesday 28 May a trial basis until March 2026. Digital Slinky could end up helping to transform demand responsive transport in the county if it is successful. The service offers a handy alternative for people needing to get to the shops, work, appointments or social visits if a bus service is not easily available, or they just want to leave the car at home.

The Slinky app uses existing bus stops and landmarks as pick-up points, to connect people to local places of interest within the operating area – such as the supermarkets, town centres, education and health care services. There are also plans to connect people with the current public transport network for onward travel.

For people who can't get to a designated pick-up point, due to mobility issues, a pick-up can be arranged from home. You can book up to an hour before your journey time and two weeks in advance – which is recommended where possible to secure your journey.

Somerset Council's Lead Member for Transport and Digital, Councillor Richard Wilkins said:

"In a rural county like ours demand responsive transport has the potential to play a much bigger role going forward. People don't always have easy access to a bus route or a car, or they may wish to leave their car at home. Digital Slinky is a great alternative, reliable, affordable and easy to book. Anyone can use it. If this trial is successful we will look at introducing the service into other areas in Somerset."

Roads Minister, Guy Opperman, said, "As part of the Government's plan to improve local transport, we have provided £13 million to Somerset Council, enabling the Slinky on-demand minibus to provide more flexible local transport for local residents living in the Somerton and Langport areas."

Somerset Council's existing Slinky and Community Transport service already covers many areas of the county and, unlike Digital Slinky, is geared more towards residents who do not have a transport alternative and may have restricted mobility.

Bygone Days

Janet Seaton

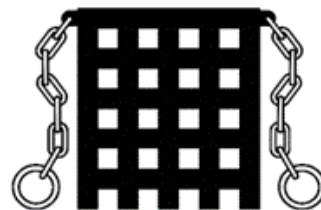

Gone with the wind

The first of Curry Rivel's two windmills was built at Wick in about 1760. It was advertised as being to let in the Sherborne Mercury of 6 February 1775:

'The mill is of excellent construction, consisting of three pair of stones with every conveniency annexed, and is now in perfect order...' It was a sunk post type of mill, whose main body was partially buried in the ground to give it greater stability. The owner, Maurice Trevilian, was also prepared to sell it 'on the most reasonable terms, twenty-five head of deer'. The windmill was gone by 1820.

Langport & District History Society

Our next meeting will be at 7.30pm on 2 September in All Saints Hall, North Street, Langport, when Chris Eldridge will give a talk about The Normans in Somerset. All welcome. Non-members £4.

We're local, we're friendly and we're here to help. We stock a wide variety of meats including Game, Homemade pies, pasties, scotch eggs and faggots. And a wide selection of local cheeses and local seasonal veg.

Scott's spot

The leaders we choose

As I write, General Election campaigning is in full swing and as this issue of the CRN arrives polling day will be imminent. We're not alone. Today the news is full of a snap election in France, and in recent days Europe has been voting for a new European Parliament. Change is in the air.

I heard from a friend recently that they were criticised for bringing a narrative from the Bible into a modern-day debate. But as one who holds both to the relevance of the Bible to speak into any situation, and that politics and faith should mix, I bring you an example.

In a 3,000 year old event that you can read about in 1 Samuel chapter 8, the Israelites (God's Old Testament people) have decided they want a king. This was a particularly sad moment in their history because this demand was effectively about replacing God with a mere human king. In loving grace however, God does grant this and Saul is appointed king, but God clearly warns that to choose this path will mean consequences. Their new king will cost them. We read of sons called as charioteers, daughters to be perfumers, cooks and bakers, and the best of the land's produce taken in taxes and distributed to the king's officers and courtiers. The warning is simple – beware the kings you appoint, for the power you give them will have repercussions.

The application to us and our 'king-appointing' election seems obvious. Of course Rishi Sunak or Sir Keir Starmer won't be calling-up our sons to drive their chariots or our daughters to bake bread (however much they might like that!) but the shape of their leadership and of the 'courtiers' (ministers and advisors) they appoint, will impact us all.

Now it is a rash vicar who publically airs their political affiliations, so you won't find that here, but if you are a person of faith, then you may be interested in how I think we ought to approach our modern-day 'king making'.

In a General Election we choose others to exercise power over us, so this choice matters. As we decide where to put our cross, people of faith will need to make that decision not only based on manifesto promises or who have managed the least slip-ups whilst campaigning, but also to consider the morals and motives on display. So, for the person of faith there is more to consider than debate ratings, costings, and the impact on our lives. We need also to consider which 'king' has a heart most closely aligned with God and His ways. Or to put it slightly more negatively, but perhaps realistically, to ask which 'king's' policies are least far from God's. The Bible consistently holds out the God who has a special concern for the weak, the poor and the marginalised. So who will most readily speak up for justice, for those whose voices are not usually heard? Who will act with impartiality, wisdom and integrity? Who will be most prepared to stand up for what is right even when it is not popular? In short, which 'king' will have the most Christ-like care for people and creation?

All this means another layer of thought and effort taken to read between the (head) lines and dig deeper than the sound bites, but important things are rarely straight-forward.

With prayer for our nation and those who lead us, whichever 'king' and their courtiers we have elected.

Revd. Scott

 each month?

You receive your copy of the Curry Rivel News each month because someone is kind enough to give a little of their precious time to deliver it.

Could you help out, too? It wouldn't take a lot of your time, but would be very much appreciated by those who receive the copies that you delivered.

United Reformed ChurchJuly

Services take place in our Chapel building, starting at 10.30am.

7th - Mrs Jo Morling
(incl. Holy Communion)
 14th - Service of Prayer and Fellowship
 21st - Rev Evelyn Ridout
 28th - Mrs Jo Morling

We are a small, inclusive, outward looking group of people and we welcome all wherever they are on their life/spiritual journey, without regard to age, gender, denominational background, sexual orientation, race or ability. We respect the traditions of our past, engage with the present and look forward to the future, believing our work together is rooted in our relationships with God, each other, and the world around us.

Tea/coffee is served after every service providing the opportunity to meet and chat with each other and the service leader.

URC Minister: Rev. Tim Richards
(on sick leave)

Hall Bookings: 01458 253953

Change for Curry Rivel United Reformed Church.

If you read the Church Pages of your June copy of Curry Rivel News you will be aware that we are about to lose our Ministerial oversight.

The Reverend Tim Richards who has guided us over the last 18 years is retiring at the end of this month. We also know that sadly Tim is seriously ill and we are consequently losing the much-valued help of Ali Richards, Tim's wife and previous author of our CR News input. As Tim said in last month's CR News, he has faced the challenge of guiding 5 Churches in the URC Mid-Somerset Group of Churches. With Tim's retirement the URC Synod is talking of expanding the group to 8 churches which will be guided by a single Minister. Such a job will require a special sort of Minister who may take some time to find!

In the meantime, we are learning the DIY approach. Our small number of members are eager to keep our Church alive and open. Curry Rivel URC has provided a 'Free Church' presence in the village since the 1800's and we have inherited a small but beautiful village Church with a worship area for Sunday services and a useful school room for social events which when needed can be available to other village groups. We value the help of Christians within our Mid-Somerset Group who are able to come and lead Sunday services for us and of Jo Morling a member of our church who has lay reader training.

When DIY is needed, we have services of Prayer and Fellowship, and hymns, as suggested originally be Ali. We are usually guided by the ecumenical magazine "Roots" which provides lectionary readings, suggestions and comments appropriate to the weeks theme.

So, we have Services, led by members of our Church that can be surprisingly different, but that maintain a link with activities taking place in other Christian Churches throughout the country. Why not give us a try sometime?
